

PHOTO COURTESY OF USNA PAO

Superintendent VADM Ted Carter '81, USN; Athletic Director Chet Gladchuk; and Alumni Association and Foundation President and CEO Byron Marchant '78 speak to the men's and women's track teams at the Ingram track re-dedication celebrating the new resurfacing project.

PHOTO BY MCS 2ND CLASS BRIANNA JONES

“I know what you will risk and what you will receive in return. I know America is lucky to have you, and that you will think yourselves lucky to serve America. Even in the worst of times—and they come for most of us—you'll know that to serve this country is to serve its ideals—the ideals that consider every child on earth as made in the image of God and endowed with dignity and the rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. It is a noble cause. It is your cause, and it's worth living and dying for.”

—Senator John McCain III '58
To the Brigade of Midshipmen
at the Naval Academy on 30 October 2017

NAPS Alumni Return for Multi-Class Reunion

Naval Academy Preparatory School (NAPS) alumni from classes as far back as 1967 returned to the school on 23 September for a major reunion. Members of the NAPS Classes of 1967, 1977, 1987 and 1997 traveled to the school to celebrate their 20th, 30th, 40th and 50th reunions together.

While each class had its own individual schedule of social events for the weekend, the highlight of the trip for most was an opportunity to share their experiences with the current class of midshipman candidates. Approximately 200 alumni, spouses and guests attended. See page 105 for a more detailed write-up. □

PHOTO COURTESY OF MIDSHIPMAN CANDIDATE NAEË JENKINS

CAPT Kenneth Marks '71, USN (Ret.), NAPS '67 (standing in audience) moderates a panel discussion during which members of the NAPS classes of '67, '77, '87 and '97 fielded questions from midshipman candidates.

EARN YOUR COMPETITIVE ADVANTAGE WITH A MASTERS DEGREE IN PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Our unique curriculum takes students beyond theoretical concepts and provides them with the practical project leadership, critical thinking and problem solving skills needed to prepare them for future challenges and rapid career advancement. Project management graduate students will develop the know-how to put high-demand project management methods into everyday practice.

LEARN MORE, GO FURTHER

Visit advancedengineering.umd.edu/pm

A. JAMES CLARK
SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING